MARCH, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND TWENTY

WILLARD TITUS BARBOUR, Carpentier Lecturer in English Legal History in the Columbia University School of Law for the year 1919-20, died on March 2, 1920.

Professor Barbour was graduated from the University of Michigan with the degree of A.B. in 1905 and with the degree of LL.B. in 1908. He made a special study of English legal history at the University of Oxford from 1908 to 1909. He became assistant professor of law at the University of Michigan in 1912, professor of law in 1915, and in 1919 was appointed Southmayd Professor of Law at Yale University. He wrote a "History of Contract in Early English Equity" which was published in 1914 as one of the volumes of Oxford Studies in Social and Legal History, as well as numerous Law Review articles dealing with various phases of equity and English legal history, in which he was especially interested.
